Annotation: In this article, the education conducted in Uzbekistan during the course of the lesson of the history of Uzbekistan, information was given about the important role of political knowledge in the life of young people.

Key words: youth, political knowledge, political culture, development, youth parliament.

Introduction. In the current era of rapid development, many countries are part of the world community to improve economically and politically in order to find a place among them moves. Especially in Uzbekistan, the main composition of the population is made up of young people Great attention is paid to young people in the implementation of the development of developing countries. In particular, the development of our country is always thoughtful and promising strategies are being implemented. In these strategies, the political processes are correct and great steps are being taken to implement it rationally. Politics correct implementation is the key to the sustainable development of the nation, the people and the state will be one of the factors. Political science is needed to conduct politics correctly should be consistently taught at a high level.

The main part.

The development of political science, research, is definitely a great skill organizes. It is very important to organize and master such skills. Our state pays great attention to this important issue. These skills "New Uzbekistan - strategy" of President Sh.M. Mirziyoyev as evidence we can remember the following words in his books: "A well-known politician, The Secretary General of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, Martin Chungong, is the head of the official delegation. When he visited our country, he regrettably emphasized one point. That is, more than half of the planet's population is under the age of 30, but the share of young deputies worldwide is less than 2.6%.

The high-ranking guest in Uzbekistan said that this figure exceeded 6 percent assessed" Through these words of our President, it is one of the main forces of our country that our united youth are not indifferent to political processes and political It is obvious that they are paying great attention to practical situations in the study of processes it seems.

Through the development of political science, we strengthen political consciousness our enrichment with and learning about the newest political processes in the world and them we may be able to analyze. Development of political science and the following in bringing political science to the attention of young people I believe that the processes should be implemented. First, such science to master the latest innovations in the development of science.

Secondly, the ability to create political reading among young people and the book expansion of the process. Thirdly, religious and secular sciences are ideological teaching in the system of political sciences in the case of correct and consistent analysis.

Fourthly, the political processes implemented in our country timely delivery and analysis. Fifth, Public information giving more openness and freedom to the tools. Perform these processes one of the reasons for the importance of increasing 60 percent of the population of Uzbekistan 30. It is a country that is being organized by young people. And this It means that it is very important for our youth to join political processes. Implementation of the above-mentioned processes in the system of political sciences it makes a great contribution to attracting young people and turning them into high-ranking staff.

Use of high scientific technologies in mastering political sciences on the basis of which the development of political sciences is achieved. These technologies are our youth Its wide promotion among people is definitely the main factor in attracting young people to political science takes place. Because our young people are now in the new scientific and technological development interest is increasing. This process is based on the right approach if it is used, it can certainly attract young people to political processes it is possible to raise political consciousness.

At this point, in attracting young people to political science, they are psychological and biological it is necessary to pay attention to the circumstances. Because every person is physically and mentally healthy if his professional direction is correct both from the point of view of science and from the scientific point of view approach and development. To this situation in the development of political science It is very important to pay attention. implemented by our republic keeping our youth healthy and healthy in the state policy regarding youth great attention is paid to ensuring the spiritual condition.

In attracting young people to political science, it is shaping their life we must be able to correctly evaluate the processes. Because the current is developing. The rapid development and progress of new Uzbekistan in all areas is evident is visible. How do we put these situations in the minds of our youth if we don't know what is being embodied and how they evaluate it, we let's not attract our youth to the system of political science and teach them science we will lose so much. After all, political science in the Republic of Uzbekistan. One of the main reasons for the training is that it was signed by our President in 2019 as defined in the decisions: "In foreign political and foreign economic activity External in the field of promoting the national interests of the Republic of Uzbekistan from the goals and tasks facing the ministry of affairs, other ministries and agencies based on education, fundamental and applied research ensuring the level;" is. Development of political sciences is very important for New Uzbekistan one of the stages. Because of the political processes taking place in New Uzbekistan attention of our people. This is evidenced by the following words: "Today our nation is not the indifferent and careless nation of yesterday" to the reality of life the words also prove it. Political processes are the focus of our people.

As it is falling into the center, we are the right approach to this situation on the part of our people we need to ensure its implementation, and the only solution to this is science. This science is considered a political science, and it should penetrate all layers of our people it should be secured and spread widely. In my opinion, it is our people The role of our youth, who have become the main layer, will be very great. Shuing so that we attract them to political science and give them the right political knowledge we have to give. International scientific in training young specialists It is known that the use of skills is a very important factor. That's why we bringing more young people to the world level and serving them to the development of our country it is necessary to pay more attention to training as a specialist. If we If we create political immunity among young people, it will be very big in the future we can achieve success. This immunity in young people will be formed in the future serves as a basis for the generation. At the same time, the created political Immunity is a great service for the development of our country and confidence in the political circle strengthens the feeling.

Increasing the ability of young people to master and apply political science progress also determines the position of the country's development in front of the world community will be a big factor. As a result of the President's policies, they themselves as they said: "It concerns the youth in Uzbekistan today State policy and its practical results are of great interest in the world community is waking up. Initiatives put forward by our country in this regard, including the development of the UN International Convention on the Rights of Youth speech of the leaders of the member states of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization to the Youth acceptance and implementation of the application and the Program of Actions for its implementation proposals to increase..." all of these have divided the youth of our country into the future increasing his confidence and making a great contribution to the development of political science.

Summary.

In short, the political processes in our country are real corresponds to democratic principles. Openness and openness, especially to our young people on the basis of their interest in political science and their involvement in political processes active participation also corresponds to democratic principles. The development of our country Our youth will be the main force in the renaissance of new Uzbekistan. It's in the Renaissance Of course, the young intellect will win and take New Uzbekistan to the top comes out. Widespread promotion and teaching of political science among young people that the trend of development of the state and society will take place on a constructive basis provides. Because a person with political science is led by the state can correctly assess that reforms and political processes are only for the people.
